

Healing Loss: A Residential Workshop for Montefiore Associates March 30-April 1, 2016

Many of us serve as caregivers, both in our work with patients and in our own families. Caregiving can have a profound effect on our personal and professional lives and can bring love and gratification. It also can bring stress and other emotional burdens, especially if we do not have the opportunity to take care of ourselves, and can bring grief when we lose people we care for.

The Montefiore Healing Arts Program and Human Resources are pleased to offer “Healing Loss,” a 3-day residential workshop at a nearby retreat center.

- A powerful experiential and educational program providing participants with the opportunity to identify and work through some of the losses, grief and changes that often occur in caregivers’ lives, both personal and professional
- Led by experienced facilitators in a safe, supportive and confidential setting
- Will offer ways to release some of the emotional ‘baggage’ and ‘unfinished business’ that can get in the way of our being truly present for ourselves and others
- Participants will leave with new tools for self-care and healing, to help build resilience when facing stress in the future

Date: March 30- April 1, 2016 (Wednesday-Friday)

Location: Stony Point Conference Center,
Stony Point, NY

Facilities: All meals and sleeping accommodations are provided.
Please note that participants sleep at the retreat center
Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Cost: This workshop is free of charge to participants

This workshop is limited to 24 participants and registration is required. Continuing Education (CEU) credits are available.
